Dear Esther and Josh:

I have just arrived back again and I should like to tell you again how much I enjoyed the meeting. It was a most interesting experience and I have personally learned a great deal both from the formal lectures and from the private discussions. I shall write down my comment within the next few days and send it to you.

Today I have arranged the transfer of 550 dollars to the office of the Northwest Orient Airlines in Madison, Wisconsin. You should receive it during the course of next week. Would you please let me know by the end of next week whether you have received it and whether everything is in order. They promised to send it telegraphically from here.

Looking forward to see you soon here and with warmest regards to both of you, yours as ever,

George
